

The School Board recognizes that parental involvement contributes positively to student achievement. Therefore, the Board encourages ongoing two-way communication between parents and guardians and the schools regarding student progress in the educational program and student learning.

District and building level staff shall:

- Develop strategies to enable all parents and guardians to participate in their children's education.
- Communicate with parents and guardians on a regular basis, through a variety of means, regarding student academic successes and accomplishments, deficiencies and other information regarding student achievement and learning, including information required by law to be reported to parents and guardians.
- Respect the diversity and differing needs of families and provide school-home communication opportunities with those needs in mind.
- Be as available as needed to respond to parent and guardian concerns about student learning.
- Encourage parents and guardians to support their children academically within the family and to reinforce the skills their children are being taught at school.
