

DISSEMINATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE RULES

Policy 253.2

Page 1 of 1

The District Administrator will take proper means to effectively disseminate any and all such administrative rules and regulations as are established to all employees. This shall include means such as administrative handbooks and written directives. It is also important that time at staff and building meetings and in-service sessions be devoted as needed to explain and clarify such rules and regulations.

The current version of the District's Employee Handbook(s) shall be accessible to employees on the District's website.
